It's Never Too Late For a New Chili Recipe

Submitted by JoAnna Arendarczyk

There was a new event at the Nottingham Family Fun Day held on September 20, 2014 at the Nottingham School. The Bascom - Arendarczyk Farm stand owners hosted a Chili Cook-off. We had five different recipes to vote on: two classic chilis, two pork sausage chilis, and a chili verde.

The winner of this year's contest was Britt Audet! She made a Chili Verde that was enjoyed by many! We asked if the recipe could be shared with the town and she was willing to do so (see below). The Chili Cook-off will be at next year's Nottingham Family Fun Day so start breaking out your recipes and perfecting them!

Ingredients:

Olive oil
5 cups diced onion
1/2 cup chopped garlic
1/3 cup chopped serrano peppers
1/3 cup chopped jalapeno peppers
5 pounds cubed pork shoulder
1 quart chicken broth
15 to 20 peppers
12 to 15 tomatillos
3 tablespoons garlic powder
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1 tablespoon ground cumin
1 tablespoon Mexican oregano
1 teaspoon ground coriander
2 teaspoons salt

Directions:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. In a medium saucepan over medium heat, add 1/2 cup of olive oil. Stir in the onion, garlic, serrano and jalapeno peppers and cook until soft. Remove from heat and set aside.

Place the pork shoulder in a large heavy bottomed pot, coated with oil, over medium heat and sear until well browned on all sides. Deglaze with the chicken broth, and then add sauteed onions and peppers. Turn heat to low, cover and let it simmer for 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, place the peppers on a sheet pan. Peel the outer paper skins off the tomatillos, then coat with olive oil and place on another sheet pan. Place both pans in the preheated oven and roast until the peppers are nicely charred and the tomatillos are soft, about 20 minutes.

Remove pans from the oven and place the peppers in a plastic bag to let them steam for 5 minutes.

Peel and seed peppers, and then puree them with the tomatillos in a food processor. Add the puree to the pork mixture, stir, and then let simmer on low heat.

Combine the garlic powder, black pepper, ground cumin, Mexican oregano, ground coriander and salt in a small bowl, then add to pork mixture and stir well.

Let the chili mixture simmer for approximately 1-1/2 to 2 hours on medium-low heat, or until pork is nice and tender.

Here is the link to the recipe she used but made a few changes to: <http://www.foodnetwork.com/recipes/chili-verde-recipe0.html>.

Recycling Center Improvements

Submitted by Kathy Cinfo

The Nottingham Recycling Center has had many improvements this past year. When you come up into the parking lot, the first thing you should notice is that the dumpsters have bright new signs that clearly mark the intended contents. These include wood, building debris, bulky waste, electronics, tin cans and metal. As you walk toward the building, next to the compactor chute, you will see another new sign that explains in more detail the policies of disposal of material.

The main room of the recycling building now has an "IN" door and an "OUT" door. This should create a safer and more user-friendly traffic pattern. On your-right hand side when you enter the room you will see bags set up to deposit your plastics in. The employees designed, manufactured and installed the racks. They have labeled each container and provided examples on the signs as to which type of plastic is to be deposited in each bag. Remember, most plastic containers have the recycling triangle with a number inside it to signify the type of plastic. Some plastics sell for more than others.

The glass window and the paper container are in the same places, but opposite the plastics the employees have cut a second window into the wall. One window is for the aluminum cans which will be processed through the can crusher. The other window accommodates cardboard and is located next to the baler. This increases the efficiency of the cardboard processing immensely. Remember, cardboard should be flattened and cut down to not more than 30" x 30".

One new change for you as the recycler, is that new vendors can now be used that will pay more for "pure" corrugated cardboard, so please put the soda cartons, beer cartons, etc., (chipboard) in the paper container rather than in the cardboard window.

Don't forget that the annual usage stickers need to be renewed by April 1. They will be available in March according to the Town Administrator. There is no charge, but proof of residency (usually car registration) is required. Since the Town Office hours are not always compatible with people's work schedules, volunteers would be welcomed to verify residency and issue new stickers at the Recycling Center particularly on Saturdays in March. Stop by the Town Office to volunteer. Annual stickers have already saved you some tax dollars by eliminating people who should be using the facilities in their own towns.

Speaking of saving tax dollars, this past year the Town purchased two storage trailers to allow full-load shipment of recyclables. This will mean fewer shipments and less cost for trucking and "tipping fees." Don Cinfo, with the assistance of Lisa Stevens and Dawn Wirkkala, applied for a grant from "New Hampshire the Beautiful." The grant was awarded in an amount that paid for one of the trailers!

From the Selectmen's Office

Our best wishes to the Nottingham community for the New Year! As we perform our final reviews and make final adjustments to the budget and warrant articles for 2015, we are happy to report that expenses for 2014 were in-line, slightly less than, the 2014 budget. Due to the leadership in our offices and departments, the 2015 proposed budget will show a small growth over 2014.

The NH Listens! Report from the MPEC committee has been published and is now available. Also, the Marston property is open for foot traffic and our highway department created a small parking area on the property to avoid street parking. Please, no motorized vehicles of any kind!

Our recycling numbers are in and showing an overall increase in tonnage for recyclable materials and reduction in municipal solid waste over 2013. Thank you for your efforts. They are beginning to pay off.

Lastly, the devastating loss of EMT Diane Nugent on Thanksgiving morning reminds us of the service all of our volunteers in town provide, especially those who put themselves in harm's way in order to assure the safety of others. Please take a moment and thank those who serve, either as town employees, or as volunteers. It is through everyone's efforts that we are a successful township.

Marston Property Update

Submitted by Donna Danis

Thanks for everyone who attended the Community Conversation on the Future of the Marston Farm Property. Almost 100 people who live, work, learn, and play in Nottingham gathered to express their views. Over a period of three hours, eight small discussion groups identified what they value most and generated a range of ideas to guide future planning for the town. The full report compiled by NH Listens! can found on the Town website under Boards & Committees, Marston Property Exploratory Committee. A print copy is also available for viewing in the Town Office. MPEC Committee meeting dates are posted on the town website and around town.

Winter News & Happenings at the Library

Submitted by Eric Stern

2014 was quite the year for the Blaisdell Memorial Library, and 2015 promises to be yet another! As we turn the calendar to 2015, there are two changes of which we would like to make our patrons aware:

(1) The library is now closing at 8:30 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday evenings. All other library hours of operation will remain the same as we head into 2015.

(2) All patrons will be requested to present their library cards when checking out materials in 2015. We understand that this may present an inconvenience, but we ask for your patience as we bring practice in line with previously established policy. The majority of public libraries in New Hampshire and elsewhere will not allow any materials to circulate to patrons who do not present a current library card upon checkout. The reasons for this are myriad, but essentially, it boils down to this... presenting a library card at checkout is not only a convenience to the library, but a protection for the patron. Librarians have an ethical obligation to safeguard patron privacy, and a library card is key to that.

Before moving on to programming, I also want to address a matter that is of great importance to me.

One of the duties that I find the most challenging is to select materials of adequate breadth to satiate the community's thirst for reading. Personally, I feel that no one person can do a complete job of selecting books for a community of readers with diverse interests. To that end, I would like to invite any patron who wishes to contribute to the selection of materials to please email requests to me at blaisdellml@comcast.net. It is my sincere hope that every library patron be able to find quality materials to checkout each visit.

Now on to programming...

The children's room continues to have a lot to offer in 2015. Weekly story hours will begin again on Tuesday, January 13. We offer story hour for babies, toddlers and children ages 4-6 years old. Each group meets once per week for six-week sessions, running until June. Registration is required. Please call 679-8484 for more information.

On our next craft day, we will be making a CD ROM spinner! Children of all ages are invited to stop by the story hour room anytime from 2-8 p.m. on Wednesday, January 14.

Lego Sundays are a real hit - and not just with children! Come to the library anytime from 1-4 pm and build with our huge supply of Legos, starting again January 18. Make new friends, create and have fun! Masterpieces made that day are displayed for one week in the Children's Room. Stop by to check them out!

Last, but not least for children, Beth Benham will teach a yoga class for children in grades 2-5 on Wednesday, January 28 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Space is limited, so please call the library to register.

For teens, commencing in 2015, the library will be hosting a monthly showing of a book-to-movie translation. So many popular films start their lives as books before arriving on the silver screen. These movie screenings will be Teen Advisory Group events open to grades six and up. Movie times will be forthcoming, so be sure to check back with us if interested! Any teen eager to learn more about the Teen Advisory Group, feel free to call or email the library.

For adults, there will be an evening of music with noted Irish Balladeer Paul Carroll on Wednesday February 18, 6:30 - 8 p.m.

2015 also sees the continuation of two book groups for adults. The afternoon book group is scheduled to meet Thursday, January 15 and Thursday, February 19, both at 1:30pm. The evening book group, which alternates between meeting in Northwood and Nottingham, is scheduled to meet in Northwood on Wednesday January 28, and in Nottingham on Wednesday February 25, both commencing at 7 p.m. These groups meet monthly, so anyone interested in participating, please contact the library to sign-up!

We wish you all the very best in 2015, and hope to see you in the library soon. Happy New Year!

Planning Board News

Submitted by Susan P. Mooney

In early 2014, the Board decided to address two Actions in the revised 2011 Master Plan recommended for Planning Board attention. In the chapter Land Use, Action LU 2.2, "Lot Disturbance and Landscaping", suggests the implementation of a regulation to manage growth and help maintain Nottingham's rural and village character. Action NR 5.3, to create a "Steep Slope Protection District" as outlined in the Natural Resources chapter, would compliment the town's steep slope standard contained in the Subdivision Regulations and provide additional protection to watersheds, and other natural resources while also addressing safety and scenic quality concerns. To this end, the Board contracted a planner to draft proposed ordinances addressing these two proposals. In the fall and early winter, the Planning Board reviewed several drafts and made changes to these proposed amendments for the town's Zoning Ordinances.

At the December 10 Board meeting, Public Hearings were held, one for each of the proposed above amendments and a third proposal that follows. At each Hearing, members of the public were allowed to speak for or against these proposals. After each Public Hearing was closed, the Board voted on whether or not to recommend that the amendments be put before the voters as warrant articles. Both the "Lot Disturbance and Landscaping" article and the "Steep Slope Protection District" article received motions to place them on the ballot. They both failed to pass on a three (3) Yes to four (4) No vote and, as a result, these proposed amendments will not be on the March Town Meeting Warrant.

At the November 12 joint meeting of the Planning Board and the Zoning Board of Adjustment (ZBA), there was discussion on the types of issues that residents bring before the ZBA. Overwhelmingly, the majority of the requests for variances were for accessory structure setbacks from the abutting properties' lines. The ZBA recommended to the Board that the existing 50 foot side and rear setbacks be reduced to a minimum of 20 feet. Details were discussed and an ordinance was prepared for the Public Hearing scheduled for December 10. At the subsequent Public Hearing on the 10 it was determined that further clarifications were necessary: the Board then voted to schedule a second Public Hearing on January 14.

All of these proposed changes to the Zoning Ordinances and the discussions and actions by the Board can be reviewed in the minutes available on line on the Planning Board page.

Conservation Commission News

Submitted by Susan P. Mooney

During the month of November, members of the Conservation Commission conducted conservation easement (CE) monitoring walks on four large parcels and on nineteen deed restricted lots in a residential development. Nottingham holds the CE deeds for four parcels owned in fee by Terninko, Mendum's Landing Association, the family of Ann Friend and the Bear-Paw Regional Greenways (BPRG) property known as the Kimball Family Forest. The Commission, on behalf of the Town, then conducts annual inspections to ensure that conditions of the easement deeds have been respected. In like manner, other properties in Nottingham with CE restrictions are monitored by other agencies that hold the easement deeds. Commission members also walked the easement boundaries between the protected and non-protected areas of residents' properties in the Highlands Development to monitor for compliance. Of the 19 total properties, there were a few that had non-conforming issues. Letters were written to these owners outlining what was not allowed by reference to the deed restriction document as filed at the Rockingham Registry of Deeds. Remediation was suggested to correct the violations, as well. These letters were copied to the Board of Selectmen for their review.

There are several other conservation easement projects in progress all contained within the Four Generals' Greenway, including, but not limited to the following: P1, now known as the Fernald CE Project, contains 100+ acres abutting Pawtuckaway Pond, Pawtuckaway State Park and Deerfield Road. The family has been working with the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests for this CE project. The property is mostly uplands and presently operates as a working forest. It is expected that the public hearing for this project will be held in February.

P2 is confidential at this time. It contains more than 100 acres of wetland, uplands and agricultural soils. SouthEast Land Trust (SELT) is working with the family to help protect this property with a CE.

P3 is now identified as the Harvey CE Project. Of the 1100 acres total the property has 221 acres which extend into Nottingham. This very large parcel contains a significant area that supports large numbers of migrating birds known for their major roles in dispersing fruit and seed, along with managing insect populations through their remarkable traveler's appetites! SELT is coordinating this project for the Harvey family. It is expected that this project will extend into 2016 in order to secure funding partners at all levels, national, state, regional and local.

Mr. Falzone owns over 150 acres located between Case and Mitchell Roads. Known as Maple Ridge, the property was originally intended to become a housing development with an estimated 42 new houses to be constructed. Mr. Falzone recently placed an application with the National Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) for a grant to conserve all of the property except for one house lot. The parcel contains numerous high value vernal pools and abuts potential conservation land on one side and town owned property on the other and thus will add to the northeast arm of the Four Generals' Greenway. This project has the support of abutters, New Hampshire Fish and Game, the Lamprey River Watershed Advisory Committee, and the Planning Board among other groups.

The Conservation Commission is working on two public programs to be offered to residents this coming season: the "Third Annual Winter Wildlife Walk" and a "Welcome to the Neighborhood" lecture series detailing conservation properties in our town available for hiking and exploring. We hope to be able to include live wild animals in the latter program. Stay tuned!

All residents are welcome to attend meetings, held on the second Monday of each month.

Applications for alternate member positions are available. Meetings are televised on the local access channel. Questions, suggestions and recommendations can be sent to NOTTCC2014@gmail.com and are promptly attended to.
